ODP Announcement 23-009

AUDIENCE:

All Interested Parties

PURPOSE:

To announce that MyODP's redesigned navigation structure is now live. Resource pages now reside on Home.MyODP.org without the need for login. MyODP.org will continue to host all Trainings and role-specific resources that require login.

DISCUSSION:

Thank you for your patience as we have been adjusting the MyODP navigation structure last week. The new navigation structure is now complete.

Home.MyODP.org will now be the primary site to access ODP related Resources. Many resource pages that were on MyODP.org have been consolidated for simpler navigation on Home.MyODP.org and are accessible without the need for login. Home.MyODP.org will also be the main point of access for Everyday Lives content, News, and Communications. The Home.MyODP.org Search bar will search materials on Home.MyODP.org, ASERT, and AIDinPA.

If you have bookmarks to any resource pages, they will remain accessible until February 28, 2023. Please change your bookmarks to the home.MyODP.org resource pages before this date.

Trainings can now be accessed by clicking on the Learning tab at the top of Home.MyODP.org and proceeding to log in. Logging in will take you to your MyLearning page and show your Recently accessed courses. On the right-side panel of your MyLearning page, you will be able to access your Transcript, Certificates, and links to view your past Grades and Bookings to any live trainings you have registered for. There is also a simple Quick Course List which will only search by Training title.

Trainings can be found in the Professionals and Topics tabs in the navigation bar. The Professionals tab contains related trainings and materials specific to ODP roles. For example, the CPS providers dropdown link contains required trainings and links for that role. The Topics tab contains related trainings and materials to specific ODP topical areas. For example, the Incident & Risk Management dropdown link contains all trainings associated to that topic.

The MyODP.org Home link in the navigation bar will redirect to Home.MyODP.org.

The Upcoming Events, Training Partners, and Support tab remain unchanged. The MyODP.org Search will search for all trainings and materials on MyODP.org. This will include results for resource pages until February 28, 2023. Communications will also be included in this search until they are transferred to Home.MyODP.org in the coming months.
